Many Favor Townsman's School Plan

"That's the most sensible plan I've heard," said a former local school teacher regarding The Townsman's suggestion concerning the present school housing needs.

The Townsman last week suggested making ALL elementary schools eight grades instead of six, doing away with the junior high school, and giving the present junior and senior high school buildings over to a four-year senior high.

Similar comment from numerous other sources has been reaching The Townsman during the past

Town Faces Big Outlay In Capital Expenditures

Realizing that the town is facing the possible need in the immediate future for capital expenditures of more than $6,000,000 the Andover Taxpayers' association feels that there are many phases of the situation which should be brought to the attention of the public.

To meet this objective the association will launch a series of lectures pertinent to these expenditures, to be given in various town precincts by non-resident experts.

The first of these will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 23 at the West elementary school when Richard Preston, commissioner of the state department of commerce, will discuss "The Pros and Cons of Zoning for Industry." This subject is highly important to all citizens of Andover but particularly to residents of Precincts 4 and 5.

With a new express highway planned to go through parts of Ballardvale and West Andover it is felt that the zoning of this area for industry should be thoroughly considered before hand.

In a second lecture to be given in Ballardvale at a date to be announced later the subject to be taken up will be the town schools.

In all of these lectures it is planned to have a question and answer period follow the speaker's talk so that the public will have an opportunity to go into many details of the subject discussed.

"Carol" and "Edna"

The Worst Brought Out The Best!

It's good to be wanted — and all of us in the insurance business have really been wanted since the unwelcomed visits of "Carol" and "Edna". Never before were we hit by a pair of catastrophies of such proportions in this area. It has been a gratifying experience for us, though, for various reasons.

Since the storms, the insurance man has been the "best friend" to thousands of people. From our own point of view, it was a pleasure to know that our customers' protection would measure up to expectations. Many people buy insurance for years and never have a loss, so it's only natural that they wonder sometimes if the policy is as good as the agent made it sound when he sold it. The test has come and gone and the insurance industry was not found to be lacking.

It's a source of great satisfaction to us to see how "those big insurance companies", that people too often picture as being cold and unfeeling, immediately responded with all the human understanding that could be asked of a neighbor next door. Not only did they take an attitude of "cut the red tape and take care of our customers", but, also, they in many ways took extraordinary steps to give action to this attitude.

Finally, to us, the most gratifying factor of all, was the wonderful spirit of cooperation and fair play exhibited by our customers. We have always worked on the principle that most people are fair and honest, but here we have seen the proof in action. We could recount endless instances to prove this, but we'll settle by saying we're proud of the people we are privileged to serve and we want to thank you for your cooperation in a way that goes far beyond the demands of ordinary business relations. We are all caught up now, after considerable overtime and good work on the part of our employees and adjustors. If you have need for service of any kind, just give us a call

PUNCHARD BESTS METHUEN, 34 - 19

On the next kickoff Al Wadman raced 85 yards for a touchdown and Billy Vickers kicked the extra point. Moments later Methuen went into the air from its own 40 in a series of futile passes and lost the ball on downs. On the next play Wadman went to the visitor's 18 and then Dick Smith took the ball on the 2 and with some excellent blocking by his mates romped into the end zone for a t.d. Vickers again kicked the extra point and the half closed with Punchard leading 14-12.

From then on an inspired Punchard team dominated the game. In the third Wadman recovered a Methuen fumble at midfield and after the Blue Devils suffered a five-yard penalty Wadman again broke through the line and with fine blocking went 57 yards for another t.d. Vickers missed the point after, his only miss in five tries during the game.

Methuen took a new lease of life in the fourth when Wainwright and Arold moved the ball to the Punchard 25 only to have the drive bog down. After an exchange of punts Methuen put the ball in play on their own 17 and attempted a pass play. Al Schwarzenberg nabbed the ball at the 25 and was off for another Punchard score.

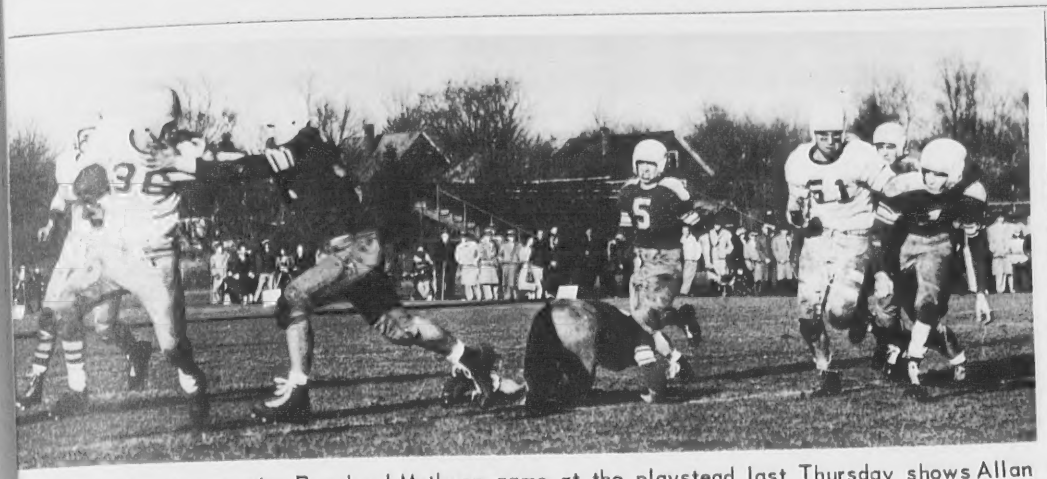

A few moments later Billy Mc Cullom intercepted another Methuen pass at the Punchard 48 and scampered all the way down the field for his team's final t.d.

With several substitutes in the game Methuen picked up another touchdown with Qualters going over for the score.

In the battle of statistics Methuen made 12 first downs to Punchard's 7, but the locals gained 191 yards rushing to Methuen's 139. Punchard tried two passes without gain. Methuen attempted 12 for a net gain of 40 yards but two of their passes were intercepted for Punchard touchdowns. Punchard lost 85 yards on penalties and Methuen 20.

SID WATSON MAY PLAY PRO FOOTBALL IN 1955

Sid Watson, former Punchard football star and captain of this year's Northeastern university team has been notified that the Los Angeles Rams in the National Pro league are interested in obtaining his services for next year. Watson now makes his home in Waltham. He is studying at Northeastern under the school's cooperative plan. He attends classes 10 weeks and then works a similar period outside. The course thus lasts five years instead of four. His classes could be arranged so that he could get two 10-week periods in succession away from school.

PUNCHARD HIGH

By CAROL FOLLEY

Band Dance

The Punchard All-Girls band is sponsoring a dance, Fall Frolics, on Nov. 19. Mrs. Barbara H. Wilson is the general chairman, and Priscilla Reynolds, publicity chairman; Barbara Brookover and Prudence Pimpare, decoration chairmen; and Carol Folley, refreshments chairman. Posters were made by Leigh Henderson, Ruth Anne Greenwood, Gail Goodwin, Joan Silva, Priscilla Reynolds, Sheila Serio, Sandra Stewart and Carol Sullivan. All band members are asked to bring cookies.

Dancing will be from 8 to 11 p.m. All students are welcome and the money that is raised will be used for new instruments.

Rally Notes

The cheerleaders wish to express their thanks to Lee E. Noyes of the Pitman Lumber Co. for letting them use a truck in which the football team rode in the parade Nov. 10. A note of thanks is given, also, to the boys and girls who helped unload the truck before the rally. The rally was a big success, but the team still has one more game to play and will need even more support from the student body.

Yearbook Committees

The following are on the various committees for the yearbook; business; John Baer, chairman, Margo Albee, Marlene Bajak, Regina Burrows, Marilyn Carver, Cynthia Dantos, Lorraine DesRoches, Robert Doucet, Mary Anne Garabedian, Robert Gillis, Frank Nelligan, Audrey Smith, Carol Sullivan and Allan Wadman; photography; Mary Anne Lynch, chairman, George Heseltine, Lorraine Nadeau, Betty Lou Simeone, Barbara Bobek, Myrtie Bell Jacques, Robert Lefebvre, Ernest Clegg, Richard Lumenello, Patricia Gurry, Audrey Madden, and George Henricks; Art: Joan Silva, chairman, Barbara Carbonetti, Cora Pettit, Paul Gallant, and Norman White; literary: Anne Lord, chairman, Janet Young, Beverly Donahue, Valerie Shaw, Dorothy Jenkins, Kathy Dineen, Mary Belka, Lois LeTourneau, Barbara Frawsell, and Steve O'Connor.

Cynthia Lawrence and June Newenzer have been added to the art committee.

UMT Debate

The classes in Problems of Modern Living directed by William J. Igoe are having a debate on the universal military training in United States. Moderator of the first period is Carl Buschmann. On the negative side are Alberta Briggs, Carol Sullivan, Frances Rollins, and Priscilla Colpitts; the affirmative are Audrey Madden, John McCabe, Robert Leete, and Mary Anne Garabedian. In the third period class Ernest Clegg is the moderator and William Kneath, Robert Lefebvre, and Roger Johnson, are the affirmative while Lorraine Nadeau, Eric Burgher, and George Heseltine are on the negative side.

Coming Events

Next Friday, Nov. 26, the cheerleaders will sponsor their annual dance in the gymnasium. Previous to this year the dance has always been on Thanksgiving night, but because North Andover is having their dance that night, Punchard's is postponed until Friday.

Stunt Nite

The following are helping chairmen Marlene Bajak and Eric Burgher on the act committee for stunt night: George Henricks, Mary Anne Garabedian, Audrey Smith, Richard Lumenello, Ernest Clegg, Paul Gallant, Janet Young, Regina Burrows, Mary Boloian, and Judith Hall. The committee chose the theme of reviewing school days.

Council Notes

The student council did not meet last week because the band had a rehearsal at the same time and too many students were absent.

Gym Team

The newly organized gym team has begun to perform outside the school. Yesterday, Nov. 17, the team put on a show at the Shawsheen school as part of the Shawsheen PTA program.

Thursday a group from the team will be at the Andover Youth Center to demonstrate some of its activities.

Donald D. Dunn, gym instructor, reported that membership is still open and will continue to be open to all students throughout the year. He asked that the Junior high pupils think about joining because there are very few signed up now.

Yearbook Notes

During last week, Mary Anne Lynch chairman of the photography has been collecting baby pictures of the seniors for use in the year book. Plans are being made so the pupils can sign their names with their picture on the pages set aside for this.

Chairman of the business committee, John Baer, has asked all seniors to try and get one ad for the year book. All ads are to be turned in by next Monday.

Unlimited Choice

If, today, you could walk into a typical food store of the 1900 type you might think you'd returned to something resembling a dark age. At that time there were only 200 food and related items on grocers' shelves. Now food stores stock as many as 5,000 different items – including all kinds of frozen, canned, dietetic, prepared and otherwise-processed foods that would have seemed miraculous to our overworked grandmothers.

In other branches of retailing, such as the variety and department stores, there has been comparable progress. Their offerings are virtually limitless. The main problem of the consumer is to make a choice from the vast array of attractive goods.

The retail store is America's showcase. It is the perfect reflection of the competitive free enterprise system. Under that system, mass production creates what people want. Then mass distribution brings the incredible wealth of goods to the ultimate consumer. Competition sees to it that the purchaser's dollar goes as far as possible.

Retailing, taken collectively, is one of our biggest employers and taxpayers. It provides a huge market for the goods and services of all enterprises, large and small. It is the visual evidence of our living standards which the world can see.

More Homes

Noting that the injection of new FHA regulations into the real estate economy has stirred up the whole market to a better appraisal of its opportunities, Banker & Tradesman of Boston, says that brokers, builders and developers see ahead of them an increased demand for homes in general, a better market for the medium-price house and the better-than-medium-price house, and they see, too, a better market for existing houses.

All of which is of more than passing interest in Andover where for the past six or eight years the erection of new homes has been going on at an increasing rate.

The paper also adds that "a home mortgage is no longer the 'skeleton in the closet' that it was a generation or two age. It is, on the contrary, a sign of good credit, and it is, in truth, an asset to the property if and when the property is sold."

These views of the real estate market by Banker & Tradesman, an authority in its field, strengthen the belief of many in the finance world that home building, both on the single-unit basis and the production-line basis is going to continue at its increased pace for some time.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago – November 1904

A union service will be held in the South church Thanksgiving morning.

Joseph Johnson Jr., shot a handsome fox near Boston hill recently.

Firemen's ball next Wednesday night. There will be no supper this year.

A banquet will be tendered the Rough Riders in Pilgrim Hall next Monday evening by the Republican Town committee.

The police service at the Andover-Exeter game Saturday was all that could be desired. The local force was assisted by 16 Lawrence officers. The best of order prevailed.

E. I. Thompson, captain of this year's P.A. eleven was removed to the Lawrence General hospital Sunday to recuperate from injuries suffered in the Exeter game Saturday. His work was one of the features of the game.

The American ship of state has been commissioned for another four years' voyage with Theodore Roosevelt as captain and the Republican party as his officers and crew, we say of the presidential election. Roosevelt won with a popular plurality of over 2,000,000 votes.

Judge Poor has resigned as trial justice of Andover after serving in that office 38 years. He was appointed by Gov. Bullock and succeeded Squire Merrill.

P.A. was outclassed by a heavier Exeter team in the annual game at Brothers Field Saturday and lost 35-10. Capt. Thompson, Bullock, and Hobbs were outstanding for Andover. Andover's failure to use Dillon, regular quarterback, was criticized right and left, especially as that was Andover's weakest position. T. Jones, Exeter quarterback, proved to be a great field general.

Mrs. Dorcas Abbot Clark, 86, one of the true gentlewomen of Andover, died Nov. 4. The old Abbot home near the railroad bridge was the place of her birth and death.

Lawyer George W. Foster suffered a broken collar bone in a fall down a flight of cellar stairs at his home on Main street Saturday evening.

25 Years Ago – November 1929

Cong. Edith Nourse Rogers paid a generous tribute to veterans of the World War at memorial exercises held Sunday evening in the town hall under the Legion auspices.

Tablets in memory of World war veterans were accepted at services held in the South church Sunday morning.

Arthur Jowett of Shawsheen Village was appointed a regular police officer Tuesday by the selectmen. He will be stationed in Shawsheen square.

The A.P.C. sorority staged an elaborate Mother Goose bazaar in the South church vestry Tuesday.

One hundred twenty five members of the Baptist church attended a roll call supper Wednesday evening served by the Philathea class.

The new automatic traffic lights were placed in operation at the corner of Chestnut and Main streets Thursday evening, Nov. 7.

The November club will hold its first meeting Nov. 18 at which time it will have an informal celebration of its 40th anniversary.

10 Years Ago – November 1944

Andover's Sixth War Loan drive will start Monday with James Gould, treasurer of Phillips academy again serving as chairman. The town's quota has not yet been announced.

The Protestant churches of the town will hold a union service in the Free church Thanksgiving day.

Andover's tercentenary plans are getting under way as the various committees are being organized and tentative budgets set up. The period of May 30 to June 2, 1946 was selected as the 300th anniversary dates.

Over 500 attended the Fall Frolic sponsored by the Punchard Alumni association Saturday night after the Methuen-Punchard game. Miss Monica Coleman was chairman of the dance committee assisted by William Doherty, president; Dorothy Foster, Bessie Dantos, Frances Reidy, Mrs. Thomas Neil, Elsie Rasmussen and Ruth Martin.

Free X-Ray Survey Here Dec 8, 9 & 10

Plans for the three-day free X-ray survey to be held here Dec. 8, 9 and 10 were discussed at a meeting held recently in the board of health office.

Weaver and Miss Louise Kelsey, members of the committee, Dr. Einar A. Olsen and Miss Eleanor Hazen of the Essex County Health association.

Mrs. Morse will serve as general chairman of the survey, Mrs. Weaver publicity chairman, and Mrs. Alvin Zink Jr., clinic chairman. House-to-house canvassing will not be done as in the survey of 1952.

ANDOVER BEATS EXETER, 31 - 6

Catlett's directing and superb faking together with Speedster Levering's flashy running combined to bring Andover's powerful split T offense into full play, the Blue scoring almost at will in setting back the Big Red.

Andover scored two quick touchdowns the first two times it had the ball. It took just five plays after the opening touchdown to cover 50 yards to the first score, and seven to cover 65 yards for the second.

For the first score the ball was on the 34 when Catlett faked a pass to two backs, started around left end and tossed a lateral to Levering who stepped 30 yards down the left sideline for the t.d.

A flashy driving backfield made it 12-0 shortly after, going 65 yards in a drive highlighted by Catlett's 38-yard gallop on a "keep" option play. Fullback Russ Shaver of Garden City, N.Y., drilled two yards for the score. He fumbled as he crossed the line but recovered.

The Blue's third touchdown was its toughest as it took 13 plays to go 66 yards. This drive was sparked by Catlett's 15-yard pass to Bill Agee. Levering then burst through for 11 yards for a first down on the eight and then found a hole which he went through for the score, making it 18-0.

Exeter's Ray Johnston prevented a shut-out with a spine-tingling scoring dash as he took the second half kickoff and weaved 75 yards for the score.

Shortly afterward Quarterback Jack Smith recovered a Blue fumble on the Andover 49 and the Big Red hopes soared again only to have the Blue line stop three plays for no gain.

Then Capt. Pete Briggs broke through from his tackle position to block a punt and Andover was again on the march. Two plays later Fisher dropped back and tossed a 23-yard aerial to Trev. Grimm, who stepped the remaining 10 into the end zone. Fisher's extra-point kick made it 25-6.

With a number of substitutes in the game Fullback Bruce Smith intercepted a Red pass on the Exeter 24 and the Blue scrubs drove for the final score. Quarterback Tony Forstmann, who replaced Catlett, dashed 19 yards to the Exeter 10, and two plays later swung six yards around left end for the Blue's final score.

The summary:

TOWN FACES BIG OUTLAY IN EXPENDITURES

George Grant, president of the association, will open the lectures by enumerating some of the proposed expenses facing the town.

These, and their estimated costs, are listed by the association as follows: Possible new high school with trimmings, $2,000,000; numerous drainage including Rogers brook and numerous streets about town, $1,000,000; replacement of of about 78% of old water and sewer pipes, $1,000,000; renovation of high service water system, $350,000; fire house and equipment in West Andover, $100,000; enlarge water supply at Haggett's pond, $1,000,000; new town house, $250,000; grammar schools, additions, etc., $1,000,000.

The proposed fire house and equipment in West Andover is something that has been discussed in recent years and with the rapid growth in that section of the town there is expected to be a more pressing call for additional fire protection there.

The Andover Taxpayers' association is inviting the public to attend these lectures so that all will be better able to decide these questions for themselves.

ATTAIN SPECIAL GIFTS GOAL

bers reached their goal of $20,000 on Oct. 4, prior to the opening of the United Fund campaign.

Since that time pledges have been coming in as a result of contacts made before that date, bringing their total pledges up to $24,391, more than $4000 over their goal.

For the remainder of the campaign Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Amy have mapped out their solicitation areas and districts and are planning their leadership. Aided by Postmaster Stephen A. Boland and his associates, their cards have been sorted and checked. Mrs. Wilkinson said there would be 8 to 10 areas in the Andover area. These will be broken down into districts and sections. No team member will have more than eight calls to make.

week, all highly in favor of the idea which would eliminate the necessity of finding a central site for a proposed new high school with an athletic field and large auditorium and reduce the necessity of transporting pupils to the center of the town from six years to four.

Practically all who made their ideas known to The Townsman on this subject were highly in favor of eliminating the junior high school.

One reader suggested a committee that would include a builder and an architect to look over the present unused school property to see what it would cost to modernize them.

Another suggested a survey of the whole school housing problem together with a survey of building trends to see where the population is growing, and the possibility of future development with the new express highway going through Ballardvale and West Andover.

There is a pressing school housing problem that has developed with the town's building and additional school rooms will have to be provided.
